Cumulative, as of 2003-01-26

Page and column numbers are given in the left margin.

- xiii FOR “(such as <kerenge>, <kerense> ‘love’)” READ “(such as <gallosek>, <gallogek> ‘powerful’)”.
- xix FOR “<http://www.egt.ie>” READ “<http://www.evertype.com>” AND FOR “ced-1-errata.html prior to their” READ “ecd-1-errata.html before their”.
- xxi FOR “most of this century” READ “most of the twentieth century” [also on the front jacket flap].
- xxvi Indent the first line of the first NOTE.
- xxix ADD NEW PARAGRAPH AFTER “cannot be proscribed.”: “Spellings in Middle and Late Cornish suggest that the possessive adjectives agan ‘our’, agas ‘your’, and aga ‘their’ had two forms: one stressed on the initial syllable [‘agən, ‘agəs, ‘agə] and the second stressed on the final syllable: [ə’gən, ə’goz, ə’gə], where the unstressed syllable was frequently lost. The first form is seen, for example, in agyn arluth ‘our Lord’ SA 59, agen hager oberou ‘our evil deeds’ JCH §26, heb agon gwerras ‘without our help’ T. Boson, agys brederath ‘your brethren’ TH 22, ages bothe ‘your wish’ CW 1790, age fays ‘their face’ BM 1205, uar’ ago phidn ‘against them’ JCH §29. The second is seen in Gun Tavaz Carnoack ‘Our Cornish language’ N. Boson, gun Tavaz ny ‘our language’ N. Boson; gose bounans ‘your living’ JCH §1, goz lavrak pouz ‘your heavy trousers’ J. Boson; gu booz ‘their food’ James Jenkins, go roza ‘their nets’ Rowe. The choice of a’gan, etc., rather than ‘agan, etc. seems originally to have depended on the position of adjacent stressed syllables.”
- xxxii ADD ŋ TO THE CHART, AND A NOTE: “Regarding [ŋ], e.g. in spong, ancow [aŋ’kəw], Kevrangow (toponym), it is not certain whether [ŋ] is a phoneme in its own right, rather than an allophone of /n/ before /g/ and /k/.”
